PetAlive - Natural remedies for dogs - Cape Town South Africa.

Natural herbal remedies for dogs.

In the wild, animals instinctively seek out healing herbs to help them when they are unwell.

Most domesticated animals do not have access to wild plants and therefore rely on their owners to help them maintain their health. Natural medicine, including herbal and homeopathic remedies, can complement conventional veterinary care without the side effects and damage to health that often accompany synthetic drugs and antibiotics.

Mother Nature's Medicine Chest is packed full of remedies for many of the ailments and conditions affecting our furry friends.

Feelgood Health is a natural remedies company established in 1998 to meet the increasing demand for natural remedies, complimentary treatments & alternatives to conventional medical approaches.

Feelgood Health formulate & manufacture all of their own products using top quality natural ingredients such as herbs, homeopathic remedies, aromatherapy essential oils & stock strength flower & gem essences.

Feelgood Health customers wanted their pets to have the same benefits and natural solutions as they themselves had discovered in Feelgood Health remedies.

The PetAlive Range by Feelgood Health has been especially formulated in conjunction with a team of experts in natural medicine.

Remedies are manufactured to the highest standards, using ingredients chosen for their ability to safely support health and vitality, naturally.

Petalive remedies for pets have been distributed internationally in the USA, Canada, UK, Europe and throughout the world for many years and 2007 saw the official launch of the PetAlive range in South Africa
